We provide a Taranaki wide, free, mobile service to adults over 18 living with heart disease, lung disease or diabetes.

Our registered nurses support and educate people and their whānau with a focus on helping manage the long-term condition. They provide health and medication advice, care plans and follow-up support in the home, clinic, marae, workplace or wherever it's convenient.

They work closely with a client's wider networks such as doctors, practice nurses and other health professionals as well as providing referrals to other agencies or support groups. The service includes access to a kaiāwhina/navigator for added support as well as referrals to other parts of our organisation – everything from smoking cessation to meaningful activity programmes.

Phone or email us for information or referrals.
