

From humble beginnings...

Established in 1999 by Sue Doherty, a registered nurse who identified a need for quality and responsive home-based care services, Healthvision continues to support grassroots action and values community-based and family-orientated healthcare. Combining services across home support, nursing, and rehabilitation teams, we deliver efficient, integrated healthcare to maximise wellbeing and independence outcomes for service users.

Our services

Physiotherapy

Physiotherapists can manage a range of conditions to keep you moving: before and after surgery, stroke recovery, arthritis, sprains, asthma and breathing problems, back pain, falls prevention, sports, work and performance injuries.

Dietitian

Dietitians offer practical and effective strategies to meet your unique nutrition, health and lifestyle needs through scientifically-based advice and consultation.

Occupational therapy

Occupational therapists promote health and wellbeing through occupation, working with individuals, whanau and communities. We can enhance your engagement in everyday tasks by modifying the occupation or the environment to restore health to your activities.

Exercise physiologist

Exercise physiologists specialise in personalised exercise, lifestyle education, and behavioural modification programmes for the prevention, management, and rehabilitation of chronic conditions, diseases, and injuries.

Social work

Social workers help restore emotional and social wellbeing by strengthening the ability to address and manage challenges. We can also help with crisis management and adapting to uncertainty, loss, fear, isolation, and anxiety.

Corporate services

We can deliver a comprehensive range of packages and programmes tailored to meet your ongoing or one-off needs, including nursing, allied health, massage and psychology services.

Massage therapy

Massage therapists offer support in balancing mental, emotional, and physical needs, using relaxation, sports, therapeutic, and remedial massage.

Psychology

Psychologists specialise in assessing and treating issues spanning stress and anxiety, grief and loss, trauma, self-esteem, relationships and sleep issues. We help you understand the importance of mental wellbeing and provide treatment using various therapies.
